NERINE BOWDENI

Why don't you try some of the exquisite, unique flowers for your garden. Be different than your neighbors and grow Nerine Bowdeni. It is a very lovely South African bulb that is hardy in any area where the bulbs do not freeze. Exquisite cut flowers weeks after the other cut flowers are gone. They are much like amaryllis in growth as they grow their leaves in the spring and summer and the flowers come in the fall after the leaves have died down. The flowers are carried about a dozen in an umbel. Individually they are smaller than the naked lady amaryllis. The petals are about 2 inches long, narrow, and wavy in a trumpet shape not reflexed like many of the Lycoris. They are a lovely clear deep pink much deeper than naked lady amaryllis.

They make an excellent cut flower.	per 12	per 25	per 100	per 1000

BEGONIAS

So many people have asked for a list of Begonias. We are so busy with our new lilies now and have so many outstanding lily hybrids that need our attention that we are selling out our present stock of begonias and only propagating on special order. We have a fine stock of Rexes now but they are selling fast. The Fibrous Begonias rhizomateous types including stars and lettuce leaf, small leaved types upright and basket types, cane types--angel wing and palm leaf and others, Orange Rubra, double semperflorens--Joan Strong, Ruby Jewel Calla, Geneva Scarlet Beauty, and others. We will continue to grow in limited quantities the small leaved rhizomateous fibrous types Boweri and Mazae seedlings, Bo-Nigra, Joe Hayden, etc. and will have a few outstanding double semperflorens. Both of these types are sturdy house plants that do not take up so much room but give good satisfaction. We will have our fragrant double tuberosus this summer and fall but the prices will be set on these when stock is ready. If interested please write for further information on them. The Rex and Fibrous will be $1.00 each--minimum order $3.00 postpaid. If you are interested in begonias please send a list of the varieties you would like and we will fill your order as nearly as possible to your wishes.
